1976: A year for new faces and celebrations

1976 WAS a year for setting records and for new faces in the city of Campbell.

It's the year the Little League All-Stars won the U.S. Championship and came home to a city-wide welcome. The year we had a real snowfall, up to four inches in some places, and the year we celebrated the bicentennial in style.

There were tragic stories, such as the recent rash of arson fires; and funny stories, like the arrest of Santa just last week.

THE YEAR saw the first loop street opened, the first parade in years and the elementary district picking up $2.3 million on the sale of four unused school sites.

But the major reoccuring stories last year were resignations.

Biggest impact was in the Campbell elementary district where the superintendent, deputy superintendent, assistant superintendent-business and several principals resigned. (The assistant superintendent later changed his mind.)

Trustee Vern Rutlen in the Campbell high school district resigned and Steve Tedesco was appointed to fill his unexpired term.

City Treasurer Velma Olds retired after 18 years in that elected post and Nadine Sargent was elected, along with the three incumbent councilmen, to a four year term.

PUBLIC WORKS Director Bill Wren was fired and Joe Elliott appointed to that position four months later after a nationwide search.

Bob Bullard, assistant superintendent in the Campbell high school district resigned and later, Campbell Chamber of Commerce Executive Vice President Jim Haliburton left to take a post with the Santa Clara Chamber. Ted Rogers, an executive with the Boy Scouts of America, was named to the chamber post.

BIG story of the year was the Little League All-Stars who put Campbell (and the soup can of the same name) on the map by making it all the way to the World Series in Williamsport.

Sgt. Don Dore of the Campbell Police Department resigned to take the post of Police Chief in Exeter, California.

Two members of the city's Civic Improvement Commission, Anita Campos and Dave Jury, left their posts with some sharp comments about the way things are run. Lillian Moore was named to one of the vacancies.

Planning Commissioner Robert Stewart stepped down and George Vierhus took his place.

SIX MEMBERS of the city's Youth Commission resigned, and for several months, no meetings could be held because of lack of a quorum.

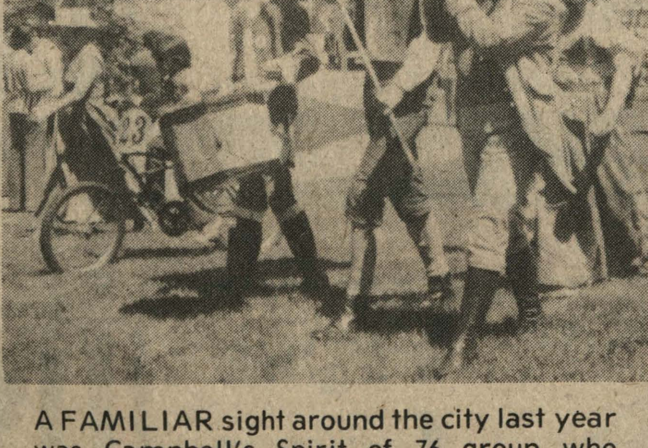
Thom McCue was named housing and community development coordinator for the city and Engineering Manager Frank Lewis resigned to go into private practice.

Here's a few highlights of the past 12 months:

JANUARY: Edith Morley was named Citizen of the Year by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

FEBRUARY: A heavy snowfall on Feb. 5 left Campbell looking like a winter ski resort.

MARCH: After a low-keyed campaign, all three incumbents, Norm Paul, Rusty Hammer and Dean Chamberlin, were reelected to the City Council. The Campbell library held its first birthday party, Governor Edmund Brown was here for a political fund-raiser, and the Central ave. fire station was declared a point of historic interest by the state landmarks commission. March was also the month that a collection of outhouses, which has dotted the landscape for over 20 years, were cleaned out. The De Anza trek came through town and, in the elementary district, 19 teachers were laid off. They later had to be rehired after the board's action was overruled.



A FAMILIAR sight around the city last year was Campbell's Spirit of 76 group who served as goodwill ambassador's during the seven month long bicentennial celebration.

APRIL: The city held its first Easter Egg Hunt at Morgan park and over 1,500 showed up. This was the month that the Council rejected "active" plans for Los Gatos Creek Park and opted to stay with a more passive, natural setting.

MAY: It was decided to close Hamilton School in 1977, the city museum officially opened downstairs at the library and the police department's black and white patrol cars became the tan and whites. The Youth Parade drew over 1,400 entrants and plans for the downtown parking district went into high gear. Eleven of the 18 elementary district schools learned they would be getting new school administrators in the fall.

JUNE: This was the month that President Gerald Ford didn't come to Campbell on his local campaign trip and when the historic mission bell was removed from the corner of Winchester and Campbell ave. for safekeeping.

CHILDREN frolicked in school yards around the city in February as Campbell had its record snowfall. Pictured are two students at Campbell junior high school making a giant snowball at John D. Morgan Park.

JULY: The gala Fourth of July celebration attracted record crowds, including over 20,000 for the aerial fireworks display, and the engraved oak tree section was unveiled in front of the library. Roadwork began on downtown Campbell ave. and the sale of fireworks within the city limits was officially banned.

AUGUST: Land was acquired for the proposed Philippine Cultural Center at the south end of Los Gatos Creek Park and plans for the dedication ceremonies announced. Plans were also underway for a homecoming celebration for the Little League All-Stars, but they still had a few games to play.

SEPTEMBER: The team gets a red carpet welcome, including a chauffered ride from the airport, after capturing the U.S. Title and then losing the final game for the world title in a disappointment shared by millions of TV viewers. This month the Wilderness Center is told to vacate the old Scout Hall on Grant st. and that building is later demolished. There was some local controversy over removing student murals from school walls.

OCTOBER: The long awaited loop street (Orchard City Drive) is opened with ceremonies featuring the cutting of a giant prune ribbon. A former principal in the elementary district files charges over an alleged racial slur and the Campbell Creature met the Milpitas Monster in a clash on the library grounds. They were both arrested.

NOVEMBER: Property owners close to a development proposed near the city's east boundary organized a drive to block that plan. After seeing the strength of the opposition, San Jose officials again postpone action on the proposal. The use of cat traps in the Campbell area and a report from a former animal control officer on alleged abuses in that field spark a flood of criticism from residents. The grand jury is now studying the latter allegations. The new state bingo laws cause problems in Campbell, as well as other cities, and the monthly bingo game run by a local senior social club is cancelled. The old jet trainer plane at Campbell Park is removed because of danger to park goers from the jagged metal edges.

DECEMBER: A dramatic enrollment drop of 739 students in the elementary district sparks a full-scale effort to seek the reasons (and possible remedies). Appointments to the city commissions, made by secret ballot, are revoked after a ruling by the state attorney general's office. A court fight develops over plans for a stadium at West Valley College and downtown business owners say the new one-way Campbell ave. is ruining their business. Negotiations between Campbell elementary teachers and the Board are stalled and a mediator is named. Over 100 apply for the school chief post and the Board begins screening applications.

A BIG question during the year was the future use of the old Campbell grammar school property at Winchester and Campbell ave. School trustees declared it surplus and offered it for sale to other jurisdictions. There were no takers. Now, the property will be offered for sale to the highest bidder and that will be one of the big stories for 1977.

The long way finds fun, Sag

FOR JAN. 1 THROUGH JAN. 7, 1977

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Aggravations abound. Don't pop off without thinking. In fact, Ari, you really should keep your words to loved one tender, for you may wind up eating them. On last day, pull on your snuggies and jog in the January sunshine.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Don't think that it is your personal responsibility to dispose of leftover holiday cheer, Taurus. It's hardly likely that it will spoil. In fact, if anything, it will improve with age. Most things do. Week ends on key of A, for angle.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Those infamous post-holiday blues can be avoided by keeping busy. If you plant seeds of friendship this week, Gem, then Spring (that saucy wench) may arrive slightly ahead of schedule. Study words to Taurus for secret message.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You are such a generous person, Moonbaby, that you sometimes give when it is neither required nor requested. Guard against this, especially in relationship with member of another generation. As hectic week hustles to an end you heave a sigh.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your usual need to dominate every situation ebbs slightly. Direct energy toward solving personal puzzle. Advice is offered, but in the final shuffle, Leo, you dance to the plink of your own banjo. Message clears.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Change brews. Your most personal affairs involved. You know from past experience, Virgo, that change often means complication. You can cope with circles within circles, but how about triangles within triangles?

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Love is never far from your thoughts, Libra, nor if given half a chance, from your actions! Romantic encounters are often emotionally-charged situations. This week you call the shots and Cupid accommodates. As usual.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Arrival of new year sparks intensity and determination. You translate plan into action. Before week is over, Scorp, you have a little thing going. Study words to Libra for added info.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your honesty and directness are admirable traits, Saj, but this is week to approach goal by way of circular route. You will understand. On last day ease on down that road which leads to fun.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Messages highlighted. Friendship/love offered. Open your heart, Cap, and let the good vibes in. Once again you realize that life is more than just stems and seeds.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Because you are idealistic, Aquari, you tend to put loved one on pedestal. Your motives are honorable, but pedestals are lonely places. Odds are good that sweetie would prefer to walk among the milling throngs . . . so long as you walk side-by-side. Week crunches to a noisy finale.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): This is the year for you, Pisces, to make dramatic change. You may have to swim upstream to accomplish desired goals. New school of thought tickles your fin and fancy. Current problems dissolve under pressure and on last day you flip. Over and out.

A personal note from Santa Claus

IT WASN'T Police Chief Don Burr who received the crushed candy cane for Christmas from a Santa who was busted on outstanding traffic warrants last week. It was the arresting officer Patrolman Kevin Austin, shown here with the goodie. The man, who almost became an accident statistic as he panhandled on a traffic island near the PruneYard, was stopped because he didn't have a solicitor's license for his pre-Christmas fund raising. A routine warrant check turned up the unpaid tickets and, when the man didn't have money to cover the warrants, he was booked into the county jail facility by Austin who took quite a ribbing from the staff there. The personal note from Santa told Austin, "I have decided that the attached present will be ALL that you will be receiving this year," Signed "Santa." At last report the bewhiskered man had relented, because Austin didn't find his Christmas stocking empty after all.

Public works funding went down the drain

By PAT SAFFORD

CAMPBELL expected "the worst" from its application for $2.5 million in federal public works bill funding. And last week the city got what it expected.

Reports released through the economic development administration in Washington, D.C., last week showed Campbell's total was zero in the federal program designed to put people to work. Other cities throughout the county didn't fare well either and Congressman Norm Mineta announced he's going to investigate the situation.

But, in the meantime, Campbell will have to look elsewhere for funding a raft of projects, including the north loop construction ($425,000), widening Winchester blvd. from Hacienda south ($450,000), City Hall renovations ($97,400) and John D. Morgan park improvements ($90,000).

OTHER PROJECTS included in the city's application were improvements to downtown Campbell ave., street maintenance, new traffic installations, and revamping the Campbell-Winchester intersection.

Some of the projects can be delayed, for years if necessary, until funds are available but others, like the north loop street, will have to be funded from other sources. At present the city could use federal revenue sharing funds and gas tax funds for the street work.

Last Thursday Administrative Assistant Terry Ellis said the grants were apparently based on the city and county unemployment rate. And Bay Area cities such as Oakland, who fared well in funding, have much higher rates than this county. Approximately 13 to 13 per cent, compared to 8.8 per cent locally.

"There was some talk of possibly a second go round (in funding)," Ellis explained. But a call to the EDA office at the Department of Commerce in Washington quelled that rumor. "The staff person says this is it," he declared.

ONE SIDELIGHT to the no funding story is that this city, like hundreds of others, tried to be one of the first to submit their application when filing opened in October. Public Works Director Joe Elliott flew to Seattle to hand deliver the application. At that time the city had promised to also deliver the city of Mountain View's application but, according to Elliott, that city didn't get their paper work here in time.

So Campbell was number 226 to get their requests in while Mountain View's number was in the thousands.

LAST WEEK that north county city was informed they will be getting some funding. So promptness wasn't a criteria.

Ellis was philosophical about the situation last week.

"The staff and City Council I think expected the worst . . . and hoped for the best."

He's alive

A priceless xmas present

A San Jose man received a priceless Christmas present this year from Campbell paramedics and Bigley Ambulance crews. The gift of life.

The Perrine family was just sitting down to Christmas dinner Saturday when 38-year-old Michael Perrine complained of chest pains. The rescue truck and an ambulance were dispatched to the Lemoyne way home. As Perrine was later being placed in the ambulance his heart stopped and the four-man team went into action.

Paramedics Al Lowder and Garry Salmon and ambulance attendants John Alexander and Chuck Kirkham worked on Perrine, and two defibrillation shocks were administered before the man responded. And the man's response was a surprise to Lowder.

"About 20 or 30 seconds after the second shock," Lowder related, "the man sat up, pulled the airway (tubing) out of his mouth and said something like 'What are you guys doing to me?' "

The heart attack victim, a career Navy man, was later transported to Los Gatos Community Hospital where he was reported in serious but stable condition.

Salmon and Lowder stopped by the cardiac care unit at the hospital Monday to check on Perrine's condition. "He'll be okay," Lowder said, "but he'll be there for awhile.

"Fortunately we were close enough and we got there in time."

No free dumping of xmas trees this season

If you have a drying Christmas tree sitting around the house you'll have to pay to get it hauled away this year.

The city of Campbell will not be accepting trees, at no charge, to be used as mulch in city parks as it has in prior years! (The most recent 1974.)

And, according to a spokesman for Green Valley Disposal Company, that firm will pick up trees, cut in three to four foot segments, if residents call at least a day before their regular collection day and pay an extra fee to the driver.

In the Dover and Sherman Oaks school areas Cub Scout Pack 311 will be picking up Christmas trees at $1 per tree on Saturday, Jan. 8, according to Cubmaster John Moore. The trees should be placed outside by the curb by 9:30 a.m. that morning and cubs will collect the $1 when they pick up the tree.

For more information about the area the cubs will serve, call Moore at 267-8425 or Den Mother Hazel Bill at 286-2308.

Vet will take cats somewhere else

The veterinarian who was planning to locate a clinic for cats in Campbell has changed her mind. According to a staffer in the planning department, Dr. Karen Leland, D.V.M., plans to withdraw her request for a use permit at 163 E. Hamilton ave. after the application hit a snag.

The problem was with the city's ordinance relating to the number of cats allowed in a veterinary clinic overnight — no more than five.

In other action the Planning Commission:

- Continued to Jan. 4 the hearing on a use permit to allow a pre-school facility at 995 Apricot ave. Officials are requesting a plot plan.
- Over the objections of several residents, recommended approval of plans for a shopping center on Hacienda ave. at Capri drive in a P-D zone. Kjartan Armann is the applicant.

Residents claim another neighborhood center is not needed in that area since another center on that same street is not able to generate enough business now.

- Continued to Jan. 4 the hearing on a use permit to house a classroom facility for a vocational training center at 875 S. San Tomas Aquino rd.

Commissioner J. Duane Dickson asked the applicants, Tom Rivera and CET of Central Coast Counties, for more information about the program and verification of non-profit status.

- Recommended approval of a plan by Ronald Bryan and Federated Department Stores for a zone change to allow operation of a distribution center and construction of a mezzanine at 600 W. Hamilton ave.
- Timothy O'Neill was given the go ahead to remodel a restaurant at 1611 W. Campbell ave. He plans on a Mexican theme, he says.

Its time to wake Westmont high

EDITOR:

There was a time in all school systems when the students had a voice in policies through the student government and student leaders. However, this seems to have failed at Westmont high school.

On the surface it appears that the administration is taking a dictator's stand and stamping out morale which the students might have had. As an example; a student was told to remove a shirt which said, "Where is Branham?" or be ejected from the basketball game. In other incidents students were ejected from games, one for leading a yell that said, "Where's Watsonville," and another for yelling, "You stink ref." If these are offensive acts then the entire student body should be ejected from football games because a majority of yells are directed against the opposing team.

Sure, there's a league rule that states no cheers can be led except by appointed cheerleaders, but that's no reason to deny students their right to FREEDOM OF SPEECH.

Let the students have a say in their school. Serious offenses should be handled by the administration but don't break down morale and spirit by over-reacting.

The basketball games are a very insignificant event; however, it shows how the administration over-reacts to even the smallest incidents.

Wake up Westmont. Consult with your students and give them a chance to have a vote on school procedures.

A PATTERN of tire tracks criss cross the grass at John D. Morgan Park these days. But, according to park workers, the grass should be greening up soon. The damage was done when police and animal control vehicles chased a coyote through the park early one morning when frost covered the ground. One city staffer says park crews called police to report the "vandalism" when they arrived that morning and saw the damage.

We Hear You

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

About all the vandalism in Morgan Park. Police cars drive through in the park and its ruining the grass. They are actually vandalizing the park themselves and it doesn't seem to do any good (in catching vandals) because you can see the cars coming from far off. No one's going to rip up a tree with a police car coming across the grass. Why don't they use the paths for motorcycle officers and stop vandalizing with police cars? Maybe the grass would come back.

A nearby resident and frequent but irate park goer

Editor's note: The incident this caller is probably referring to occured over two weeks ago when police spotted a coyote on the park grounds near Campbell junior high school. According to Captain Ron Eddlemon of the police department the officers were concerned about the kids arriving for school with the wild animal nearby. Patrol cars, and an animal control truck, were trying to chase down the coyote when the damage to the turf occured. According to Eddlemon, the men didn't realize that driving on the frosty grass would damage it. According to Capt. John Butler patrolmen have been told not to drive on the lawn unless necessary. They make a practice of patroling by having two officers park at the Budd and Rincon ave. parking lots, Butler says, and exchange cars after walking the park.

That was a funny story about Santa being busted in Campbell (last week). I'd have loved to see the (Police) Chief's face when he got the candy cane.

Tickled

Editor's note: We learned later that it was the arresting officer, not the Chief who got the crushed candy cane.

I just wanted to call to say I think it's awful late in the year for school officials to be announcing they're closing a school . . . in June. Parents should have more notice than that.

Irate Reader

Editor's note: The announcement that the school would be closed was originally made before summer vacation last June. The latest announcement is the Campbell elementary district's official notice.

Family of Man

A vision started Marsha on her mystical career

By PAT SAFFORD

MARSHA MOSSMAN doesn't fit any of the preconceived notions of what a psychic should look like. The petite blond doesn't wear a gown with flowing sleeves, effect a mysterious look with the use of tinted glasses or usher you into a darkened room for the interview.

In her small office at the Family of Man headquarters at 1953 Hamilton avenue in San Jose, she relaxes in her chair, wearing a two-piece outfit with a turtleneck sweater, and talks in plain English.

"Don't call me a psychic," she began. "I prefer mystic because I don't always know why I know."

FOR 10 YEARS, nine professionally, she has been doing readings, and since last February has headed Aquarian Hall (at the Hamilton avenue address). That metaphysical center sponsors a long list of weekly sessions, including Sunday services, a weekly healing hour, classes in soul evolution and other psychic fields and has reader-counselors available daily for individual sessions.

Marsha believes that the heightened interest in the occult is no accident. "This is the Aquarian Age," she explained, "the age of the mind." It started in the 1940's but people have just started to feel the energy in the past four or five years, she continues.

And staffers at the PRESS-SUN office are among those with a keen interest in the field. In addition to the usual notebook and pencil, this reporter also brought along questions from three individuals and small objects that belonged to them for Marsha to touch (to pick up the psychic vibrations).

ONE QUESTION was religious. "When is the second coming of Christ?" the person wanted to know.

"First, the second coming isn't a man," Marsha said, "it's an energy." And it will be the result of mankind's increased consciousness, on a very individual basis. But there will be a person who will help unite the growing numbers of people who have experienced the Christ spirit, "shortly after the year 2,000."

The second individual wanted to know what would be happening in her life in the next six months. "There's some renewal for this person," she related without hesitation, "possibly a job change." This person's been thinking about it but has her energy channeled in three possible directions at present, she added. (This was later confirmed by the person.)

The third individual is planning to take on a new project, she says, and relocate sometime in the coming months and wanted to know where she'd be going. Marsha's answer wasn't well received. "Not far from here," the mystic predicted. Also she said a white two-story older home would figure prominently in her plans and there was an obstacle in her way right now that she wasn't recognizing that could cause problems later.

THE LOCAL MYSTIC experiences messages in a variety of forms, some symbolic and some clear. In the symbolic messages, the problem is to sort out the meaning and she isn't always successful.

Like a recent incident. Marsha says she got a "creepy energy" feeling across the back of her neck. She was convinced her family was in some sort of danger. After allaying her fears by calling the children, she thought no more about it until the next morning when there was an explosion in the hall from a water heater. In this case, she says, "family" had a broader meaning.

THE SAGA of Marsha's journey into the psychic realm would be good material for a book.

Years ago she says she began to get visions of a young girl who had a message. "I was scared to death," Marsha exclaims. Over the next two or three months the vision kept reoccuring, always with the same message, "Go to Montana." Since Marsha had never been out of California and had never traveled far within the state, the likelihood of her following the order was remote. "I'd seen this house in a dream with a man standing in front of it and I knew I was supposed to find it."

Finally, she and her sister set out on the trip to Montana but neither had any idea of where exactly they were going or why. One night, as they neared the Montana state line, Marsha says she awoke to tell her sister (Cory Farrel) about a strange dream she'd had in which she saw half of a road map showing a river they were to follow.

"My sister had dreamed the other half of the map," Marsha declared. They followed the directions closely and the next day came upon the exact house Marsha had seen in her dream and the man was there, too. (An absentee landlord who was there trying to rent the house.)

AFTER TAKING a closer look at the house the two women had second thoughts about renting it. "From the front it looked like a regular house," Marsha says, "but when we took a look around the side and back we discovered it was huge, with 13 rooms and three acres of land."

Despite their misgivings they rented it and there, in the Montana home, Marsha says she began to receive many visions.

One was that she'd receive a life-size statue of Jesus as a present and that it would stand for the "truth of her life."

Several months later, back in California, a woman came into one of her classes one day and asked her to speak to her husband. The man had just brought his wife in and wasn't particularly talkative, she recalls. But after a few minutes the man began to tell her about a strange experience his father had. Seems the man, who made statues and monuments, had felt a strange compulsion to send to France for a mold of a life-size statue of Jesus and that he'd made it up but called it his "640 pound craziness."

TWO WEEKS LATER the woman returned to ask Marsha, "When are you going to go get your statue?"

She's taken the statue with her ever since and it now graces the front yard of the Hamilton ave. hall, bedecked with a crown of gold tinsel for the Christmas holidays.

Shortly after her return to the Bay Area, Marsha says she had a strange experience that got her deeply involved in the study of reincarnation.

"I was in a grocery store one day and saw a book in the rack with the title 'Many Mansions.' I thought it was one of those mystery books and started to pass it by. A voice said, 'Buy the book.' I said, 'No.' The voice insisted, she says, and the struggle with the voice continued for several minutes until she gave up and threw the book into the shopping cart.

WHEN SHE GOT home she told her husband of the "voice," feeling foolish for buying the book, but when she looked through the bags for it she couldn't find it. The entire family searched for it that day but it didn't turn up.

"After a week I was thinking of the incident and said to myself, 'If the book comes back I'll read it.' " A few minutes later as she walked by a desk in the living room she found the book lying there in plain sight. And her family swears they didn't find it.

She feels now that she had been too resistant to the voice and that she didn't find it until she was prepared.

AND THE BOOK wasn't a mystery yarn. It was about reincarnation and started her on a discovery of her former lives, Marsha says.

One of them was a nun in the early 1800's. "I was involved with Blavatsky (an early mystic) and her work."

"I believe we are all gods in the making," Marsha declares, "and reincarnation is the evolution of man." And she agrees that misfortunes seem to hit "good people" harder than most. "The more aware you are the more (trials) you take on."

But she doesn't agree with the mystics who contemplate their navels to find "real truth."

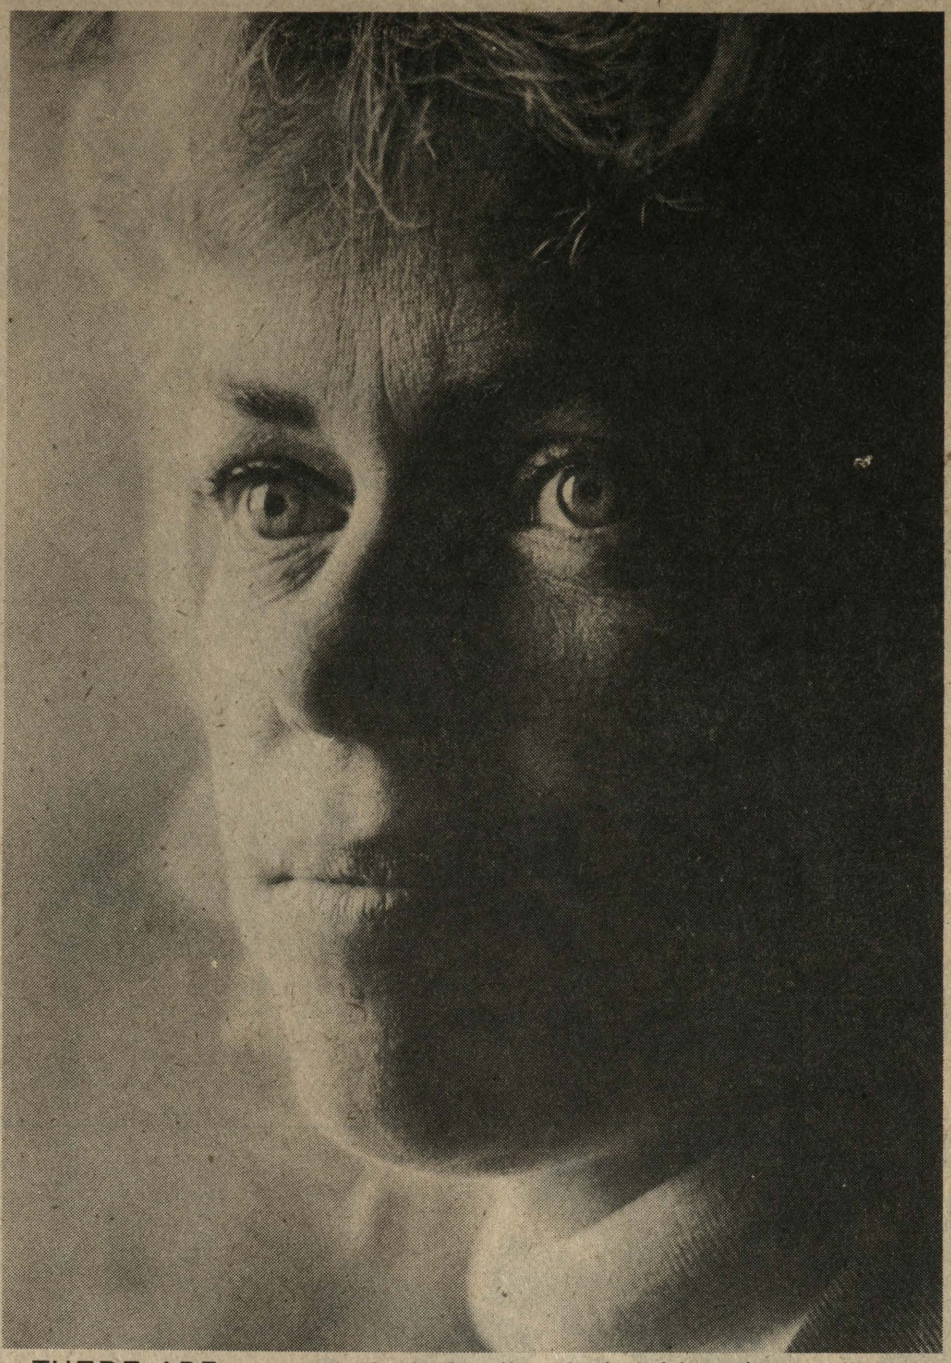
"MOST PEOPLE feel you have to sit on a mountain top to find God. But when you surrender your life he takes you out into life to clean it up."

And she feels this self-centered approach is the reason so many psychic readers "burn out" after a few years in the field.

"The psychic self is folding up," Marsha declares. Either people must take the whole step (into the collective consciousness) or they must back off."

And Marsha doesn't plan a retreat to the rear.

'You're the student and life is the teacher'



THERE ARE many methods leading to heightened consciousness, 32-year-old Marsha Mossman believes. And hers isn't the only right way. The mother of five is the Esoteric Minister for the Family of Man in San Jose. And to her, esoteric means bringing inner mysteries outward. Over the years she's given thousands of life (reincarnation) and aura readings and has benefited herself from her new life's work. "I'm healthier now than I ever was," she declares, "because I'm working with the laws of the universe."

CASE OF THE RELUCTANT ROBBER

The perils involved in picking up hitchhikers was illustrated this week when a San Francisco man was kidnapped at gun point and forced to participate in an armed robbery in Campbell, according to police reports.

A few minutes after midnight Monday, two men — one armed — held up the 7-11 store at Bascom and Apricot, ordering the clerk to hand over "all the fives, tens and twenties; no ones." Witnesses noted that the suspect with the gun stood behind the other man, taking him by the arm as they fled the store with $60 from the cash register.

Shortly after the robbery one of the suspects returned to the store, saying he had been threatened with a gun and forced to go along with the robber after picking him up in San Francisco Sunday night. The man led police to the street in Campbell where he had been ordered to lie down in the back of his van after the robbery so that the suspect could make his getaway. He told investigating officers he thought the hitchhiker was familiar with the San Jose-Campbell area because he was given explicit directions to the 7-11 store.

After questioning by police, the San Francisco man was released. Officers are investigating statements made to him by the armed man regarding a crime in Nevada where the robbery suspect said he got about $10,000 and his partner was killed.

BAH, HUMBUG!

The bearded man was definitely not jolly old Saint Nick. In the first place, his bushy whiskers were red, and in the second place, he was seen hurling stones at an office building while workers inside were celebrating the Christmas spirit.

The Santa Clara County Title company, at 2165 S. Bascom ave., sustained $200 in damages to a window last week according to police, after the celebrants, hearing thuds on the building, rushed outside to see what was the matter.

The mischief-maker and his henchman — both described as being about 20 — were seen standing behind a fence in a nearby orchard, throwing rocks at the building. After breaking the window they turned and ran off through the orchard.

CHRISTMAS EVE CAPER

It wasn't a very merry Christmas for Los Gatos high school custodian Gil Hernandez when he discovered Christmas Eve that someone had stripped his 1975 Pontiac Firebird as it was parked in the carport of his apartment complex. According to police reports, more than $600 in parts were taken from the car, including black auto seats, valued at $400. Officers noted that after the theft, the car was wiped clean of fingerprints.

UP FOR another four year term this March will be George Baker, a trustee in the Campbell elementary school district.

Campbell elementary

Baker declares he'll seek a second term on the board

"I WOULD like to remain on the board until enrollment levels off," said Trustee George Baker as he declared he'll seek reelection to the Campbell elementary school board in March.

The 52 year old engineer says declining enrollment is one of the big problems facing the local district.

"We'll soon have a new superintendent and, in my opinion, he along with a reorganized administrative staff will need experienced board members to work with for maximum effectiveness," Baker added.

The latest announcement means that contenders will be facing all three incumbents at the polls next year. Board President Gordon Abbott and Trustee Jennie Vaughn announced earlier they'll run again.

BAKER SAID he'll appear before the new Campbell Schools Community Caucus January 11, when they screen candidates for election in the local race. But he will not seek, or accept, their endorsement, Baker added. One of the purposes of the new group is to endorse and campaign for local school board candidates.

Other concerns of the board member, who holds degrees in architecture and industrial engineering, are with the new collective bargaining underway in the district this year and with property taxes.

"I feel that property tax simply must go down," Baker declared, "and the schools have to be financed another way as mandated by the courts. I want to have a hand (in that change of financing)," he added.

Another problem Baker would like to see addressed, he says, is the, "continued erosion of the standard of living for all district employees." A salary hike is important, he feels, "Our employees have been suffering from a lowering standard of living for several years."

THE TRUSTEE, and his wife Crickett, have two daughters, both products of local schools. One is now a freshman to Michigan state university and the other is a sophomore at Campbell high school. Baker, who lives at 635 Chapman dr., has resided within the school district for 24 years.

He was originally elected to office as part of a slate which also included Abbott. But whether or not they'll be running as a team this time around is still up in the air, he explained. At a recent school board's convention Baker was told there's no problem with having two incumbents run on the same "ticket" but Abbott reportedly had received other advise from County Counsel.

In his announcement statement Monday Baker had high praise for other members of the present board. "I enjoyed working with present board members," he said. "I feel that each member of this board has been contributing significantly to the operation of the district. This has resulted," he added, "in making the right kinds of decisions."

There'll be long lines at county filing office

With the filing deadline just nine days away, candidates for school and college board posts are staying away from the County Registrar's office in droves.

A total of 15 seats on local boards will be up for election in March and, as of Monday, just five people had filed. Three are incumbents.

In the Campbell Union High School District Dorothy Goble, 14634 Nelson ct., San Jose, is seeking another term on the board. Two other incumbents, Ray Silva and new appointee Steve Tedesco, are also up for reelection.

While all three incumbents in the Campbell elementary school district say they'll run again, none has yet filed their papers. And neither have any challengers, although at least three are expected to come forward before the Jan. 7 deadline.

There were no filers yet in the Moreland school district and, in the Cambrian district, one challenger has filed for election. Arlene Dallas, a homemaker and community volunteer, will seek election. She resides at 1942 Janet ave., San Jose. Three seats will be up for election in that district.

A race is shaping up in District Two of West Valley College where Foster Lopes is seeking another term. Lopes, 3510 Earl dr., Santa Clara, will be facing Alvin Murphy, 2887 Forbes ave., Santa Clara, an engineer, in the March elections.

In District One, incumbent Mildred Wharton, 19265 Monta Vista dr., has filed papers. The term of Trustee William Cilker will also expire next year.

School chief field narrowed to 13

Thirteen may not be a lucky number to some people but officials in the Campbell elementary school district are hoping it will produce a winner.

Applications for the post of school superintendent have been narrowed to 13 and individual interviews are scheduled to begin next week.

The board plans to make their final selection at, or before, the Jan. 27 board meeting.

Duty changes eyed for the city parks commissioners

CAMPBELL PARK and recreation commissioners brought up a list of 16 duties they felt they should be responsible for to city councilmen recently. And had their "duty list" pared by 50 per cent.

The only problem with the Council's streamlining of chores for the Commission is that three of the eight deleted items are part of a city ordinance adopted when the commission was formed in 1964. And any changes in a city ordinance have to go through the public hearing process.

During an informal study session between the Council and members of all city commissions, the duties and responsibilities list was brought up for discussion. The deletions will be discussed further by the Council and Commission before final action is taken.

BUT FOR NOW, the proposed deletions include;

- Advise the school district and city recreation coordinators on policy problems concerned with the recreation program.
- Advise the City Council on policy problems concerned with the park program.
- Aid in coordinating the recreation and park services with the program of other governmental agencies and voluntary organizations. (These three are in the present ordinance.)

The following additional duties, proposed by the Commission, were also dropped for now;

- Active participation in a well-constructed street tree program.
- Recommend to the City Council any expansion of development and maintenance of existing and future parks and the acquisition and level of service for city open park spaces.
- Advise the Community Services Coordinator of recreational services and programs based on citizen requests which may be funded by the city.
- Act in a representative capacity with other commissions and-or committees when asked to do so by the Council. (This would be replaced with a policy statement of the Council.)
- Act in an advisory capacity on any leisure and-or community service needs as they are brought to the attention of the Commission. (Councilmen felt this area was already covered in one of the other listed duties.)

The Commission did pick up two new duties as a result of that study session. They'll be officially charged with acting on applications for removal or trimming of street trees (which they have done for some time), and work closely with the Planning Commission on landscape designs for commercial-industrial dvelopments near park areas.

Of the remaining four duties, several had some changes.

LIKE THE FIRST one: Act in an advisory capacity to the Council, school district, officials, the school, community services and the Director of Public Works in all matters pertaining to public recreation, public parks and grounds and the cooperation with other governmental agencies and civic groups in the advancement of sound planning and programming for recreation and parks.

That's now been streamlined with a great deal of emphasis on taking their orders from the Council.

The new duty reads; Act in an advisory capacity to the City Council and, at the direction of the City Council, serve as a liaison in all matters pertaining to public parks and grounds and, under the direction of the City Council, cooperate with other governmental agencies and civic groups in the advancement of sound planning and programming for recreation and parks.

LEFT ESSENTIALLY the same are the three final charges to the Commission;

- Formulate and recommend policies and procedures on recreation and parks for approval by the City Council.
- Review and recommend to the City Council proposed standards on parks and recreation facilities, leisure and community services programs and their required financial support.
- Make periodic inventories and invite public input as to the needs relating to recreation and park services that may exist or may be needed and interpret these needs to the City Council.

New group will be screening school board candidates

Lining up probing questions to ask candidates for the Campbell elementary school board are members of a new organization called the Campbell Schools Community Caucus.

The group has been meeting for several months at Castlemont school, 3040 E. Payne ave. and plan to hold a screening meeting for candidates there on Tuesday, Jan. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-use room.

According to spokesman Frank Rabow, the objectives of the new group are to screen, endorse and campaign for candidates for the March election.

The group invites all interested persons to join the Caucus, Rabow says, and criteria for membership includes those with children in district schools, taxpayers in the elementary district and those residing within district boundaries.

Those who want more information about the group can attend the Jan. 11 meeting or write Box 843, Campbell, 95008.

5.29.030 Orangizations permitted to conduct Bingo games. No person, organization or other legal entity shall be permitted to conduct Bingo games in the incorporated area of the City of Campbell unless such persons, organizations or other legal entities possess a valid certificate or letter from the Franchise Tax Board and the Internal Revenue Service stating that they are exempted from the payment of the bank and corporation tax by Section 23701d of the Revenue and Taxation Code and that a contribution or gift to them would be a charitable contribution under Section 170 (c) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and possess a valid permit and license issued pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

5.29.090 Bingo equipment. All equipment used in the operation of Bingo games shall be owned by the organization authorized by permit and license to conduct such Bingo games.

5.29.110 Separate fund. All profits derived from a Bingo game shall be kept in a special fund or account and shall not be commingled with any other fund or account.

5.29.120 Records. Each organization conducting a Bingo game shall maintain detailed records of all profits, expenditures, prizes and other expenses associated with the operation of Bingo games. Said records shall be retained for such period of time as required by state and federal law and for a period of three (3) years for purposes of this ordinance.

5.29.130 Total value of prizes. The total value of prizes awarded during the conduct of any Bingo games shall not exceed Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250) in cash or kind, or both, for each separate game which is held.

5.29.140 Physical presence at Bingo game required. No person shall be allowed to participate in a Bingo game unless such person is physically present at the time and place at which the Bingo game is being conducted.

(b) A violation of Section 5.29.070 shall be punishable by a fine not to exceed Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000), which fine shall be deposited in the City general fund.

5.29.170 Authority to inspect premises and records. (a) The Chief of Police shall have the authority to inspect the premises in order to insure that the operation of Bingo games at the premises does not constitute a violation of any state or federal law or provision of this Code.

5.29.180 Issuance Authority. The issuing authority for permits to conduct Bingo games is the Chief of Police of the City of Campbell.

5.29.190 Permit required. No person or organization shall conduct a Bingo game without first obtaining a permit from the Chief of Police to do so.

5.29.200 Application for permit required. Written application for a permit required by this chapter shall be made by affidavit under penalty of perjury and filed with the Chief of Police of the City of Campbell. Such application shall contain:

(c) Attached copies of certificates or letters evidencing exempt status under Section 23701d of the Revenue and Taxation Code and Section 170 (c) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, received from the Franchise Tax Board and the Internal Revenue Service.

(d) Address of premises where Bingo games will be conducted.

(e) Statement of ownership or lease of premises.

(f) Purpose(s) for which such premises are used by the organization.

(g) Statement of ownership of Bingo equipment used in the operation of Bingo games.

(h) Statement of consent for Chief of Police to investigate any bank accounts containing profits derived from Bingo games.

(i) Name of each individual, corporation, partnership or other legal entity which has a financial interest in the conduct of the Bingo games.

(j) Name and birth date of each staff member or person operating or assisting in the operation of the Bingo games.

(k) Such further information as may be required by the Chief of Police.

5.29.210 Authority of and investigation by Chief of Police. The Police Chief shall have the authority to obtain criminal history information for each person operating or assisting in the operation of a Bingo game for purposes of his investigation. If he finds that such operators or persons assisting in the operation of a Bingo game have been convicted within the past five (5) years of crimes involving lotteries, gambling, larceny, perjury, bribery, extortion, fraud or similar crimes involving moral turpitude, he may not issue the permit in question.

5.29.220 Investigation and recommendation by other City departments. The Chief of Police shall submit each application to the following City departments for investigation and recommendation:

(a) Fire Chief as to any fire hazard on the premises in question.

(b) Health Officer as to the health and sanitary conditions of the premises in question.

(c) Manager of the Building Inspection Department as to compliance with City building regulations.

(d) Planning Director as to compliance with City zoning requirements and the City Zoning Ordinance.

5.29.230 Final Action by the Chief of Police. (a) The Chief of Police shall consider the records, papers, files and any other evidence he deems relevant and shall render his decision either granting or denying the permit.

(b) If the permit is approved, the Chief of Police may include such restrictions and conditions in the permit as he deems reasonable and necessary under the circumstances to insure compliance with the purposes and intent of this chapter.

5.29.240 Denial of permit. The Chief of Police may refuse to issue a permit if, after consideration of the application and any other papers, records and files he deems relevant, it is determined that the operation of a Bingo game would be injurious to the health, safety and morals of the people of the City, or that the permit application or proposed mode of operation of the Bingo game is not in compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

5.29.250 Further investigation by Chief of Police. (a) Any changes as to the staff operating or assisting in the operation of a Bingo game or any other changes in the information furnished under Section 5.29. made subsequent to the issuance of a Bingo permit and license shall be reported to the Chief of Police for any further investigation which he deems necessary and appropriate.

(b) If, after such investigation, the Chief of Police finds that the changes require suspension or revocation of the Bingo permit and license, he may take the appropriate action.

5.29.260 License required. In any examination the personnel officer may include, in addition to competitive tests, a qualifying test or tests, and set minimum standards therefor.

Appointments shall be made by the city manager, or by the officer in whom the power to make appointments is vested.

When appointment is to be made to a vacancy, the personnel officer shall transmit to the appointing power the names of all persons on the appropriate certified employment list, in the order in which they appear on the list.

In the absence of appropriate employment lists, a provisional appointment may be made not to exceed six months by the appointing authority of a person meeting the minimum training and experience qualifications for the position. A provisional employee may be discharged at any time without the right of appeal or hearing. Lay-off shall be made within classes of positions, and all provisional employees in the affected class or classes shall be laid off prior to the lay-off of any probationary or permanent employee.

For the purpose of determining order of lay-off, total cumulative time shall include time served on military leave of absence.

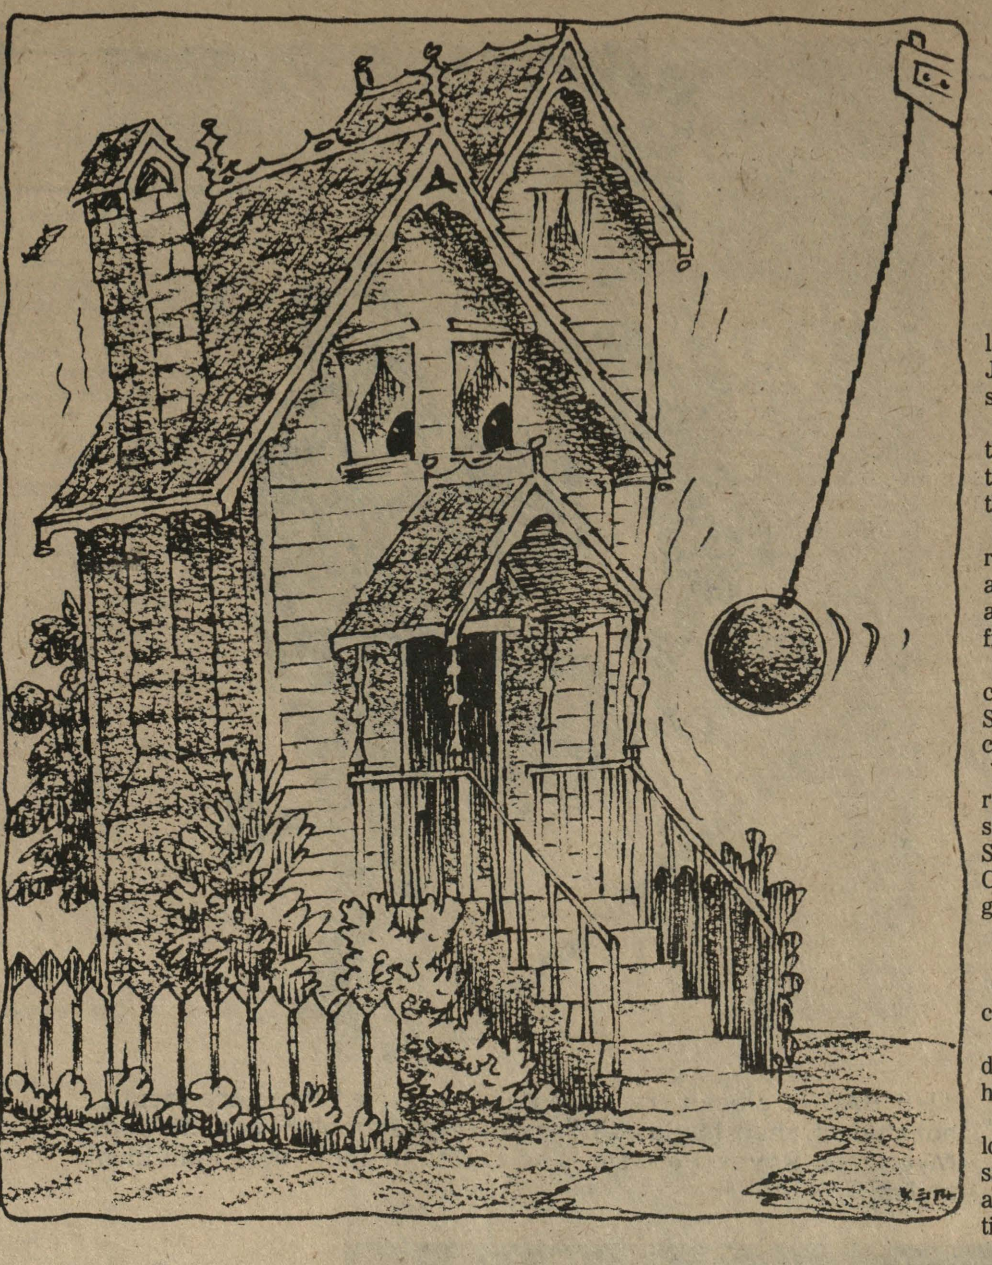
There's opening on a county board



If you have some views on how to run the state militia, County Supervisor Rod Diridon wants to hear from you.

Diridon will be appointing a member of the county National Guard Commission soon and is asking anyone interested in the post to apply.

The death of Commissioner Peter Blaettler, whose term expires in June of 1977, created the vacancy on the Commission.

Anyone interested should send a letter of introduction to Diridon or the Board of Supervisors, County Government Center, East Wing, 70 W. Hedding, San Jose.

Too many calls

Housing center won't be serving Campbell anymore

Campbell residents, who have been taking their tenant-landlord problems to the Housing Service Center in San Jose, will now have to go elsewhere for help, a Center spokesman said last week.

According to John Vargo, a counselor for the Center, that organization can no longer handle the calls for the entire county and hopes that surrounding cities will take up the slack.

Last month the Center received 900 calls. And the time required to handle each ranged from two minutes to answer a quick question to several months of litigation (if a court case develops). Over 30 per cent of the calls were from out of San Jose, many from Campbell.

The program is paid for out of federal housing and community development funds allocated by the city of San Jose and was meant to serve that city and the unincorporated areas within the city limits.

But in the 1½ years its been operating, the Center received and serviced more and more requests from "outside." In recent months complaints began coming into the San Jose City Manager's office that phone lines at the Center were always busy. So now they're bowing out of giving that outside service.

WHAT PEOPLE COMPLAIN ABOUT

The types of complaints received at the 99 N. First st. center fall into several main categories.

Top concern, in terms of calls received, is with rental deposits. A new law makes it harder for landlords to withhold rental deposits without good cause.

Second place is questions about notices from both landlords and tenants. Says Vargo, "A woman will call and say, 'My mother is being thrown out of her apartment after 10 years. Is that legal?' " If the required 30 day notice is given, Vargo explained, it is.

Third spot in the complaint department comes in the area of living conditions and possible code violations and here, Vargo says, the Center sometimes has problems. Each city has their own code requirements for buildings and there just isn't the staff to research each one.

And now, with the cold season here, there's a great number of calls complaining specifically about inadequate heating.

The Center itself has received complaints that they're a tenant advocate, rather than giving service to landlords too. But Vargo doesn't agree. Calls run about nine to one (tenant over landlord), he says, but feels that the actual ratio of owners to tenants is much higher.

"Statistically, I think we're serving landlords betters," he declared.

DON'T DO IT YOURSELF

There's great interest in the area of tenant and landlord rights at present but, Vargo cautioned, some people get into serious trouble when they use the do-it-yourself approach to solving problems.

Take the new "withholding the rent" technique some tenants use to try to force the landlord to make needed improvements.

"If its not done exactly right, they can get kicked out of the building," Vargo explained. There's a number of specific requirements if this method of protest is used, he added. These include, but are not limited to;

- That the problem be related to the safety or health of tenants. A hole in the rug, for instance, woudn't qualify. Other problems such as broken windows, a leaky roof or faulty heating are more like it.
- Rent money must be put into a separate account carefully set up.
- Prior to taking this action the local code official (usually a member of the city building department) must have inspected the premises and cited one or more violations.

In most complaint cases, Vargo said, the Center staff tries to get both sides to work out the problem. And this can be more difficult in the case of large apartment complexes.

"There's a big difference in handling problems at a 200 or 300 unit complex compared to dealing with a little old lady who owns a duplex," Vargo said. "With the complex there's a lack of one to one contact,"

But Vargo feels generally landlords have the least problem in getting problems ironed out. "They have the upper hand," he explained. If they want to change conditions on their property, for instance, they have the option of rewriting the house rules and giving 30 day notices to violators.

Where you can turn for help

With the San Jose-based service center no longer serving Campbell residents, we asked the new city housing coordinator, Thom McCue, where people can turn for help. McCue compiled a list for readers.

Campbell Building Department, 75 N. Central ave., 378-8141 (for housing code violations).

County Health Department, 297-1636 or 354-0501 (with questions of health or safety violations).

Santa Clara County Consumer's Affairs Office, 299-2105 (for suspected fraud, disputes over rental deposits, etc.).

Campbell Fire Department, 378-8141 (suspected fire hazards).

Legal Aid Society, 998-5200 (for low-income people who need legal advise or services).

"There's no one central place to call for help now," McCue explained last week.

But if you're unsure of just who to contact if you have a problem you can call McCue first at 378-8141, ext. 267, and he'll driect you.

Bay Area transit guide available

HOW WELL DO YOU KNOW how to use public transit in the Bay Area? Would you know how to get from Burlingame to Novato? From Santa Rosa to Oakland? From San Jose to Napa?

If you would need a little help, the Metropolitan Transportation Commission had you in mind when it prepared the San Francisco Bay Area Regional Transit Guide.

MTC, the transportation planning and programming agency for the nine-county Bay Region, prepared the color-keyed Guides in simple map form which includes all of the major transit operations from Petaluma's bus service to BART. The guide shows the transit operators' service areas and where they connect with other transit services.

In Santa Clara County, for example, the guide illustrates that a person wishing to travel from Gilroy to Mountain View can use either Santa Clara County Transit or Greyhound Bus to make the trip. The guide gives phone numbers to call for schedule and fare information and has an enlarged downtown San Jose section showing streets and the location of the Greyhound bus depot, as well as major Santa Clara County Transit bus lines.

Copies of the transit guide are available from all Bay Area transit operators including Santa Clara County Transit, Greyhound Bus and Southern Pacific Railroad.

Decline seen in vets' training

TRAINING under the G.I. Bill will decline slightly during fiscal year 1977, the Veterans Administration forecasts, but enrollment is expected to remain above the two million mark for the fourth consecutive year.

During October, 1.2 million students were using their G.I. Bill entitlement, down slightly from last year at the same time, but cumulative enrollment for the year is expected to again exceed two million.

The decline in October is attributed, primarily, to the expiration of entitlement for those veterans who were discharged from service more than 10 years ago. Another factor, VA officials explained, is that millions of veterans have used their full educational entitlement under the law or they have completed their educational objective.

MORE than 6.7 million persons have trained under the current G.I. Bill since it became available in 1966. Enrollment peaked last year with a record 2.8 million trainees, up 4.8 per cent from the 2.7 million in fiscal year 1975.

Legislation enacted in October denies entitlement under the current law to those who enter military service after Dec. 31, 1976, and sets Dec. 31, 1989, as the date by which all G.I. Bill training will terminate.

For thousands of G.I. Bill students, many of whom have already earned college degrees, the new law provides an additional nine months training entitlement.

For those veterans who have not passed the 10-year delimiting date, the law extends entitlement from 36 to 45 months.

'Peter Pan tryouts set at Westmont high

Thirty men, women and children of all ages are being sought by the Westmont high school drama department to take part in the school's third annual community production, "Peter Pan," slated for spring.

Auditions are set for Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 5 and 6, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the school cafetorium.

Director Sue Hale says she's seeking people who reside within the Westmont school enrollment area, teachers, students and alumni for the production.

"We need lost boys, mothers, pirates, Indians and animals played by people," she added.

Under the auspices of Westmont's Thespian Troupe 2904, a special version of the celebrated James M. Barrie classic coupled with the 1951 musical version done by Mary Martin is being prepared.

All those auditioning are asked to prepare a song from the musical but, says Miss Hale, "there are parts for non-singers and dancers as well."

For more information contact Miss Hale or Erick Lubich, production business manager, at Westmont high, 378-1500 during school hours.

THE ANNUAL battle on the courts between students and faculty at Prospect high school saw teachers edging their way to a 37-36 win. And this was their second win of the evening. Earlier, they tromped the school's Letterman Club. Both teams were cheered on by the rooting section and the Rocking Chair Power rock band, directed by Dick Robbins, director of education.

Other's jump around under the pressures of selling advertising space.
Multiplication and fluctuation have to be the real thing for us. The Audit Bureau of Circulations keeps close tabs on our circulation audience—their auditors, their standards, their reports, and their figures.
Not a bad arrangement. At least you know for sure exactly what your advertising moneys are buying.
Counting only those willing to pay the price makes us publish a paper people want to read—an audience interested in what you have to say about your products and services.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE LAND USE ELEMENT OF THE GENERAL PLAN FROM COMMERCIAL TO INDUSTRIAL
PUBLIC HEARING HELD BEFORE THE CAMPBELL PLANNING COMMISSION ON OCTOBER 21, 1976

CAMPBELL'S Molly Mayock, a fourth year student at United States International University in San Diego, recently captured the lead role in the university's production of "Point of Departure." Molly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mayock, 740 W. Rincon ave., is a Westmont high school graduate.

People

ALUMNI PREXY

Donald Callahan, a partner in a San Jose accounting firm, has been elected president of the Golden Gate University Alumni Association.

The former officer of the Association is also active in the Campbell Rotary Club, Southwest branch of the YMCA, past president of the San Jose Toastmasters and is currently treasurer of the Metropolitan YMCA of Santa Clara Valley.

Don, and his wife Joleen and their four children live at 209 Highland Terrace in Los Gatos.

A PROMOTION

Charlotte Newbern of the Westgate branch of California First Bank, has been named assistant cashier, according to Bank President Masao Tsuyama.

DIRIDON'S THE CHAIRMAN

County Supervisor Rod Diridon has been elected chairman of the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board.

The local supervisor succeeds Al Garza, Jr., San Jose City Councilman.

Campbell Councilman Rusty Hammer also served on the board.

PAT'S IN ILLINOIS

Airman Patrick Candelarie, son of Victoria and Secundino Candelarie, 1326 Harriet ave., has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Illinois, after completing basic training.

The Westmont high school graduate will be receiving special training in the aircraft equipment maintenance field.

COMPLETES BASIC

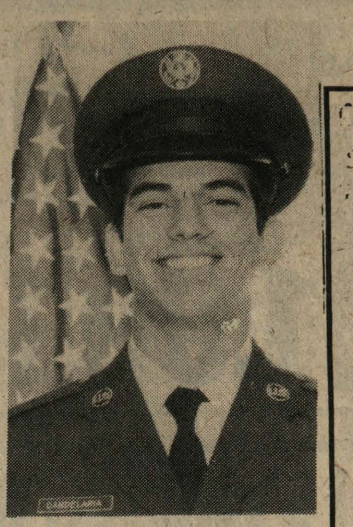
Navy Seaman Recruit Charles Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rowland Elliott, 49 Dot ave., has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego.

The 1975 graduate of Campbell high school joined the Navy in February of this year.

SEVEN AT SANTA CRUZ

Seven Campbell residents are among the over 2,000 new student registered at the University of California at Santa Cruz this year.

They include Randel Agrella, Shirley Baheri, Beverly Bakken, Kathleen Forsythe, James Hogue, James Narragon and Jack O'Brien.



Westmont graduate Patrick Candelaria recently completed basic training in the U.S. Air Force.

Nancy's will be heading for a kibbutz soon

An early graduation for Westmont's Nancy Lackner this January will be followed by months of hard work at a kibbutz in Israel.

The 17-year-old Saratoga resident, who lives at 14851 Sobey road, will be living full-time in an agricultural kibbitz and taking on the study of the Hebrew language part-time.

Nancy, who is Jewish, visited Israel in 1973 and "fell in love with it."

She plans to live in the kibbutz, a form of communal living found in that country where families live, work and share their lives, on a volunteer basis. But she'll have the same rights and responsibilities as a permanent member.

Besides having many friends and relatives in Israel, Nancy also has a brother and sister living there so loneliness shouldn't be a problem.

But she does have one worry. "I'm afraid I'll get homesick," she says.

Graham, Germaine top annual All-SUN team

Stevens best back

By DAVE MENDONCA

BEING A lineman is generally an unrewarding position in football. Although good linemen are extremely important if a team hopes to win a championship, it is usually the quarterbacks, runningbacks and wide receivers who receive most of the glory.

But that isn't the case this year on the fifth annual All-SUN football team. Leland's magnificent two-way tackle Pat Graham has eanred Most Valuable Player plaudits for 1976.

Graham becomes the first pure lineman to earn MVP honors in the five year history of the All-SUN team. Oak Grove's Greg Fultcher played defensive end in 1973 when he won the award but was also a 1,000 yard rusher that season as a fullback.

Graham also becomes the third Leland player to have captured MVP honors, joining former Charger quarterbacks Jim Miller (1972) and Keith Brown (1974).

In addition to being tabbed MVP, the Leland superstar earned first team berths on both offense and defense for the second straight season. He was the All-SUN's Most Valuable Lineman last year.

JACK GERMAINE, meanwhile, was selected the Coach of the Year by the SUN sports staff for his brilliant job of leading the Andrew Hill Falcons to their second Mt. Hamilton Athletic League championship.

Germaine, who has been at Hill since the school first opened, guided the Falcons to a 9-1 record in regular season play and nearly led them into the Central Coast Section finals.

Kyle Stevens, who was named the Most Valuable Specialty Player last year, earned Most Valuable Back honors this year for his incredible season at Yerba Buena.

The Warrior senior established a new MHAL record in 1976 by rushing for 2,004 yards in addition to scoring 152 points. Stevens rushed for over 200 yards in a single game on six different occasions this season.

Samuel Ayer defensive tackle Richard Atsatt succeeds Graham as Most Valuable Lineman following a tremendous season for the Trojans. Atsatt was the scourge of the MHAL, recording 18 quarterback sacks.

Leigh's Steve Wiens walked away with Most Valuable Specialty Player plaudits after a super season for the Longhorns. Wiens, who returned three kicks for touchdowns, averaged 40.6 yards a return while leading the Longhorns to five straight season ending wins.

Four players on this year's All-SUN first team are repeaters at their positions. In addition to Graham, Santa Teresa's Rich Campbell and Brian Anderson, Stevens and Wiens were all first team picks for the second straight year.

CAMPBELL is once again the All-SUN first string quarterback after yet another superb season at the Saint helm. The Saint qb completed 59 per cent of his passes (123 for 210) for 1,742 yards and 23 touchdowns. In the last two seasons he has completed 258 or 414 passes (62 per cent) and thrown for 47 TD's.

Anderson, Campbell's favorite target, nabs a wide receiver spot for the second straight year after going over the 100 receptions mark in his three year varsity career. Unfortunately for MHAL defensive backs, Anderson still has one more year left at ST.

Stevens, meanwhile, heads a first rate backfield. The Warrior speedster completed his three year varisty record at YB with 4,166 yards rushing, second only to Glenn Cannon's MHAL career mark.

Joining Campbell and Stevens in the first team backfield were Milpitas high running back Mike Ceraolo and Campbell fullback Dave Burns.

Ceraolo, despite playing on a team that lost its last nine games in a row, came within eight yards of becoming Milpitas high's first 1,000 yard rusher.

Burns, after a slow start, came on to win the WVAL scoring crown with 62 points, rushing for eight touchdowns and eight two-point conversions. It was Burns' resurgence that led the Buccaneers to respectability.

Westmont's Rocky Pena teams with Anderson at the other wide receiver spot. Pena was regarded as the best and most dangerous receiver in the WVAL because of his hands and blazing speed.

JAMES LICK'S Bill Maxey was tabbed to the tight end spot for his ability to block and make tough catches in a crowd. Maxey caught 29 passes on the year for 371 yards (an average of 13.3 yards a catch) and six touchdowns.

Joining Graham in the interior line were guards Bob Cope of Lick and Rennie Bowers of Branham, tackle Chris Delancy of Samuel Ayer and center Larry Bonsall of Branham.

The first team defense features one of the best lines in All-SUN history. Graham, Atsatt, Mitch Bigger of Willow Glen (the STAL's Most Valuable Lineman in 1976) and Ray Gonzales of Silver Creek compose the downlinemen while Leland's Joe Martarano and Yerba Buena's Mark Chapman are the ends. Chapman was in on 18 qb sacks this season, tying the league record with Atsatt.

Like the line, the linebacking corps of Hill's Desi Romero, Leland's Dave Ramona and Lick's Joe Cirincione is strictly first class.

Oak Grove team captain John Lulis heads the secondary along with Leland's Mike Mainini and Prospect's Steve Hill (Player of the Year and Back of the Year in the WVAL).

The first team specialty squad consists of kick returners Weins and Kevin Shaw of Piedmont Hills, punter Mike Perry of Santa Teresa and place kicker Brian Davids of Oak Grove.

Davids, who booted five field goals this season (three in one game against Mt. Pleasant, tallied 32 points as a kicker. He also established a new league field goal record by booting a 47 yarder against Mt. Pleasant this season.

PENA, RAMONA and Davids were all second team All-SUN picks last year.

A pair of fine quarterbacks share second team signal calling honors this year. Lincoln's Rick Rebozzi, who passed for 14 touchdowns and scored 48 points, and Ayer's Kevin Wheeler, whose rushing and passing totalled nearly 1,000 yards in addition to scoring 42 points, are the co-second team qb's.

Joining them in the backfield are running backs Rich Ross of Santa Teresa and Eric Stark of Westmont, along with fullback Chapman of YB.

A pair of juniors, Greg Woodard of Silver Creek and Mervyn Fernandez of Andrew Hill, make up the second team wide receivers while Hill's Robby Moreno is the tight end.

The offensive line consists of tackles Frank Allsup of Hill and Pete Angeladakis of Del Mar, guards Jeff Geibig of Overfelt and Harold Morgan of Gunderson, and center Eric Johnson of Leland.

Hill's George Achica, Campbell's Kevin Smith, Leland's Bill Ballard and Branham's Jim Sorrentino comprise the second team downlinemen while Daryl Cannon of Oak Grove, Neil Buchholz of Hill and Mark Stewart of Camden command the defensive end spots.

Hill's Gene Gurich (Lineman of the Year in the MHAL), Branham's Scott Hoeffling and Blackford's Mike Turnwall are the second team backers.

THE SECONDARY is made up of Branham's Rich LeBleu, Del Mar's Blake Fearnside, and Lick's Bryan Bowen.

Second team specialists are punter Kirk Yokoyama of Overfelt, kick returners Duane Green of Ayer and Carl Monroe of Overfelt and place kicker Edgar Romero of Lincoln.

a fan at heart

by Dave Mendonca

AS THE year 1976 draws to a close, it occurred to me that certain sports figures didn't receive the awards they so richly deserved this past season.

So, in an attempt to correct this oversight, here are my first annual Good Guys and Bad Guys awards:

OL'SAINT NICK AWARD — The winner hands down, is San Francisco Giants' general manager Spec Richardson, who gave the St. Louis Cardinals exactly what they wanted for Christmas — a brilliant third baseman in Kenny Reitz.

EBENEZER SCROOGE AWARD — Giants' owner Bob Lurie gets this one for failing to sign a first class second baseman in Dave Cash during the recent free agent bidding. Cash, a quality second sacker who can hit for average and steal bases, was interested in coming to San Francisco and asked Lurie to improve his original offer. Lurie refused and Cash wound up signing with Montreal, of all teams! The Giants, meanwhile, were left with a gaping hole at second.

BLEEDING HEART AWARD — Oakland Raider defensive back George Atkinson deserves this one for his suit against the Oakland Tribune, Chuck Knoll and the Pittsburgh Steelers for the comments they made regarding his cheap shot against Lynn Swann in the season opener at Oakland. For those of you who have not seen Atkinson's hit, which left Swann with a concussion, the Oakland cornerback drilled the back of Swann's head with his fist while the talented Steeler receiver was looking the other way. The pass wasn't even close to Swann. If I were Atkinson, I definitely wouldn't have the gall to sue anyone. I'd just be glad Commissioner Pete Rozelle didn't suspend me from playing football for a year.

THE POT CALLING THE KETTLE BLACK AWARD — Although I agree with Knoll that Atkinson's hit on Swann was unneccessary and, to say the least, unsportsmanlike, the Steeler coach had little right calling the Raiders dirty players. It seems to me that a little over a year ago Pittsburgh defensive back Mel Blount nearly decapitated Cincinnati quarterback Ken Anderson, who was already well out of bounds when Blount recorded the cheap hit. Anderson was knocked unconcious and removed from the game. Blount was kicked out of the contest. Prior to Atkinson's shot, Blount's was the worst cheap shot I had ever seen.

HYPOCRITE AWARD — Oakland A's owner Charles O. Finley gets this one for calling the other baseball owners stupid for paying such exorbitant salaries to free agents and then turning around and trying to sell Vida Blue to the Boston Red Sox for $2 million.

LACK OF CLASS AWARD — This one also goes to Finley for the way he handled the firing of loyal A's announcer Monte Moore. Finley didn't even have the courtesy to tell Moore his services were no longer desired. Instead, he removed Moore's name from the payroll without so much as a letter. Moore had to find out from a secretary in the A's organization when he called to find out why a bill Finley usually paid was sent to him.

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES AWARD — Sadly, Al Michaels will no longer be handling the San Francisco Giants broadcasts. ABC has lured him away. Michaels was probably the finest play-by-play broadcaster the Bay Area has ever had the pleasure to have listened to. He was honest, witty and interesting. He will be missed.

CHILD OF THE YEAR AWARD — This award should probably be changed to the Illie Nastase Award. His antics on the tennis court are not only childish but also disgusting. It's a shame because Nastase is obviously a great talent. But he should be sent to his room and not allowed to play until he grows up — if he ever does.

MATURITY AWARD — It's nice to see Portland Trailblazer center Bill Walton putting his God-given talents to work. Hopefully, Walton's immature ways are behind him and he will continue to provide NBA fans with the type of brilliant play he is capable of.

GOOD GUY OF THE YEAR AWARD — Los Angeles Dodger first baseman Steve Garvey displays nothing but class on and off the field. He is definitely the type of person all young athletes should pattern themselves after.

GOOD GAL OF THE YEAR AWARD — Although not as well known as Garvey, San Jose Sunbird pitcher Bonnie Johnson takes a backseat to no one when it comes down to being just plain nice. She always has time to sign an autograph, or talk to a fan or make a guest appearance. There are more important things than being a good pitcher. Fortunately, Bonnie has those things and can pitch, too.

Rainbows blow lead, drop twinbill against Salinas

WHAT SEEMED to be a comfortable lead turned out to be not quite enough recently when the Del Mar Rainbows squandered a 5-1 advantage and eventually dropped a 7-5 decision to the Salinas Reds in Semi-Pro Winter League baseball action at Mitty high school.

Rainbow hurler Jeff Blobaum took a 5-1 lead into the last inning against the Reds before giving way to reliever Mark Intrieri following a single, triple and a walk.

Intrieri was unable to stop the Salinas rally, yielding a single, walk, bases loaded triple and sacrifice fly to absorb the loss.

Del Mar trailed 1-0 heading into the third inning when the Rainbows rallied for three runs. Gary Cunningham and Dan "Yogi" Taylor drew back-to-back walks to open the inning and then romped home on a triple to deep left by Intrieri. Blobaum then plated Intrieri with another robust three bagger to left.

Del Mar added another run in the fifth on consecutive singles by Craig Richesin and Jim Dorr and a sacrifice fly by Dan McKay.

A triple down the left field line by C. Richesin and a sacrifice fly by Blobaum produced Del Mar's final run in the sixth.

SALINAS WENT on to sweep the doubleheader by capturing the second game 6-2.

Tom Bell was saddled with the loss, giving up all six runs, only three of them earned, in four innings of work.

Del Mar picked up solo runs in the first and fourth innings in the loss. Eric Richesin opened the first with a walk, stole second and rode home on Cunningham's single. In the fourth, C. Richesin, Tom Bell and Fred Gradel strung singles together to produce a run.

C. Richsein, Gradel and Cunningham each finished the game with two hits apiece. Both C. Richesin and Cunningham had four hits in the twinbill.

Del Mar returns to action Sunday at Mitty high school for games at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

PLAY ended last week for the volleyball league sponsored by Campbell Community Services. In playoffs for the first and second half winners B2 S3 won over Olympic Imports while the S.M.S. Spikers spiked their way to a win over Carl's Jr.

Crystal was the top hoop shooter

Top hoop shooter from Campbell, in a recent contest sponsored by Community Services, was 12-year-old Crystal McCorrey from Rosemary school who scored 21 out of a possible 25 free throws.

A total of 90 youngsters competed at four schools in the Hoop Contest and the 38 top winners will advance to the district finals set for Jan. 9 at Los Gatos high school.

Local winners include:

CAPRI SCHOOL, Renee Conee, Jean Kim, Laura Valkenaar, Karen Smity, Smokey Nickerson, Scott Valkenaar, Rick Cobb, Timmy Nickerson, Vernon Souza and Arthur Cazares.

DOVER SCHOOL: Sheri Stamm, Erica Heishman, Michael Scadden, Andy Darrow, Craig Long, Greg Sommer, Mark Sargent, Jeff Ragan, Sheri Schroder, Michelle Dirickson and Karen Isacason.

HAZELWOOD SCHOOL: Chris Dillen, Julie Pachoud, Mike Ranieri, Steve Owens, Jerry Pachoud and Tom Gricius.

ROSEMARY SCHOOL: Rosetta Shillinger, George Shillinger, Branda Scavone, Donna Schillinger, Jimmy Zaccheo, Andy Buchanan, John Lipuisky, Crystal McCorrey, Tallery Tarris, Paul Balbas and Mike Longden.

A RECENT visitor at the Campbell Congregational Pre-School was Santa, who passed out goodies, coloring books and crayons to local youngsters. Openings are now available in the four year group. For information call 379-7202 or 374-7974.
